KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Interest Rate Risk: The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.

Market/Price Risk: The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market prices of bonds. It refers to the portfolio's exposure to marked-to-market valuation due to market price fluctuations of the bonds.

Liquidity Risk: The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a price that could result in a loss. This may be caused by low trading volume due to different reasons such as securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers and/or sellers (limited buy/sell activity) or underdeveloped capital market.

Credit Risk / Default Risk: The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of fixed income security which the borrower issued. This inability of the borrower or counterparty to make good on its financial obligations may have resulted from adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering credit quality of the security, and consequently lowering the price (market/price risk) which contributes to the difficulty in selling such security.

Reinvestment Risk: The possibility of having lower returns or earnings when funds mature and are reinvested. Investors in the UITF who redeem and realize their gains run the risk of reinvesting their funds in an alternative investment outlet with lower yields. Similarly, the UIT fund manager is faced with the risk of not being able to find better yielding alternative investment outlets as some of the securities in the fund matures.

Foreign Exchange Risk: The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. The exchange rates depend upon a variety of global and local factors, e.g. interest rates, economic performance, and political developments.

Country Risk: The possibility for an investor to experience losses arising from investments in securities issued by/in foreign countries due to the political, economic and social structures of these countries. There are risks in foreign investments due to the possible internal and external conflicts, currency devaluations, foreign ownership limitations and tax increases of the foreign country involved which are difficult to predict but must be taken into account in making such investments.

Other Risks: Your participation in the UITFs may be further exposed to the risk of any actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of in-house or related party transactions by Metrobank. These transactions may include own-bank deposits; purchase of own-institution or affiliate obligations (stocks, mortgages); purchase of assets from or sales to own institution, directors, officers, subsidiaries, affiliates or other related interests/parties; or purchases or sales between fiduciary/managed accounts.

The Fund invests only in high-credit quality assets which are evaluated using a rigorous internal scoring model required under the Trustee's accreditation process and BSP regulations. Internal risk limits and position limits together with regulatory exposure limits are monitored, reviewed and strictly adhered to on a daily basis. The Fund may also use financial derivatives solely for hedging risk exposures.

THE UIT FUND IS NOT A DEPOSIT AND IS NOT INSURED BY THE PHILIPPINE DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION (PDIC).

RETURNS CANNOT BE GUARANTEED AND HISTORICAL NAVPU IS FOR ILLUSTRATION OF NAVPU MOVEMENTS/FLUCTUATIONS ONLY.

WHEN REDEEMING, THE PROCEEDS MAY BE WORTH LESS THAN THE ORIGINAL INVESTMENT AND ANY LOSSES WILL BE SOLELY FOR THE ACCOUNT OF THE CLIENT.

THE TRUSTEE IS NOT LIABLE FOR ANY LOSS UNLESS UPON WILLFUL DEFAULT, BAD FAITH OR GROSS NEGLIGENCE.

INVESTMENT POLICY

The Fund may be invested and reinvested in the following instruments:

- USD-denominated deposits
- Other money market instruments
- Government Securities
- Corporate Bonds
- Other investments allowed under BSP regulations

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

After nearly two years of pricing in policy cuts, the Federal Reserve has finally eased monetary restriction by 50 basis points (bps).

As it may come a surprise to many, the FOMC eased with a 50-bp reduction to 5.0%. According to Fed Chair Jerome Powell, the committee has grown confident that this recalibration will maintain labor market strength while supporting moderate growth and slowing inflation. Markets are currently expecting a 25-bp reduction with a 98% probability in the November FOMC meeting.

While the Fed loosened monetary tightness, the lagged effect of restrictive policy will continue to ripple through the economy. The Fed has successfully brought inflation down from a peak of 9.1% in May 2022 to a recent low of 2.5% year-over-year (YoY), with Q2 2024 quarter-over-quarter (QoQ) growth holding steady at 3%. The debate between a soft landing and a recession remains unresolved as economic data continues to be mixed.

With housing inflation slowing, it is now clear that upside inflationary risks have diminished, whereas downside risks to the labor market have increased. During the FOMC meeting, Powell mentioned that the lower nonfarm payrolls (following a revision for the 12-month period leading up to March 2024) was a key factor in the decision to implement a 50-bp cut instead of the expected 25-bp cut. Overall, jobs data remains healthy relative to pre-pandemic levels, but the pace of weakening is concerning.

Consumer confidence declined to 98.7, and personal consumption dipped slightly to 2.8% from 2.9%. The PMI for services edged lower to 55.4, whereas PMI for manufacturing remained unchanged at 48, staying in the contraction territory.

The yields of the 2-year US Treasury (US2Y) vs. the 10-year US Treasury (US10Y) have uninverted, a historical indicator that suggests a recession may be approaching. The US10Y fell as low as 3.60%, a 30-bp decline, as markets positioned themselves ahead of the rate cut. The cut was largely a "buy the rumor, sell the news" event, but overall, yields are expected to trend lower as inflation continues to decelerate in the short- to medium-term horizon. The long-standing mantra of "bad economic news is good for markets" may be shifting to "bad economic news is bad for markets."

The 30 days leading up to the 2024 U.S. Presidential elections will likely add noise to an already volatile macroeconomic environment. Tensions in the Middle East are expected to have limited impact as long as escalation remains contained within the warring nations. Fiscal and monetary easing by various central banks aims to prevent growth deterioration, and risk assets are expected to outperform in the short term, given continued government support.

The fund has expressed an overweight duration stance to maximize exposure to rate cuts amid this disinflationary economic phase.
