KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Interest Rate Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates. The purchase and sale of a debt instrument may result in profit or loss because the value of a debt instrument changes inversely with prevailing interest rates.
Market/Price Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in the market prices of stocks/equities. It refers to the portfolio's exposure to marked-to-market valuation due to market price fluctuations of the stocks/equities.
Liquidity Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a price that could result in a loss. This may be caused by low trading volume due to different reasons such as securities with small or few outstanding issues, absence of buyers and/or sellers (limited buy/sell activity) or underdeveloped capital market.
Credit Risk / Default Risk:	The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of fixed income security which the borrower issued. This inability of the borrower or counterparty to make good on its financial obligations may have resulted from adverse changes in its financial condition thus, lowering credit quality of the security, and consequently lowering the price (market/price risk) which contributes to the difficulty in selling such security.
Reinvestment Risk:	The possibility of having lower returns or earnings when funds mature and are reinvested. Investors in the UITF who redeem and realize their gains run the risk of reinvesting their funds in an alternative investment outlet with lower yields. Similarly, the UIT fund manager is faced with the risk of not being able to find better yielding alternative investment outlets as some of the securities in the fund matures.
Other Risks:	Your participation in the UITFs may be further exposed to the risk of any actual or potential conflicts of interest in the handling of in-house or related party transactions by Metrobank. These transactions may include own-bank deposits; purchase of own-institution or affiliate obligations (stocks, mortgages); purchase of assets from or sales to own institution, directors, officers, subsidiaries, affiliates or other related interests/parties; or purchases or sales between fiduciary/managed accounts.

The Fund invests only in assets which are evaluated using a rigorous internal scoring model required under the Trustee's accreditation process and BSP regulations. Internal risk limits and position limits together with regulatory exposure limits are monitored, reviewed and strictly adhered to on a daily basis. The Fund may also use financial derivatives solely for hedging risk exposures.

THE UIT FUND IS NOT A DEPOSIT AND IS NOT INSURED BY THE PHILIPPINE DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION (PDIC).

Key Characteristics of the Benchmark. The PSEi is a free-float adjusted market capitalization-weighted index of the 30 largest and most active common stocks listed at the PSE. The index is reviewed quarterly, and its composition is rebalanced at least twice a year.

OUTLOOK AND STRATEGY

Modest rebound in February. The PSEi rebounded by 2.3% month-on-month, closing at 5,997.97 after the previous month's selloff. Throughout most of the month, the index traded sideways between 6,000 and 6,200 as investors digested a slew of fourth-quarter 2024 and full-year 2024 earnings results, inflation data, and the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' policy moves. On the flows side, average daily turnover improved to $116 million, likely boosted by the implementation of MSCI rebalancing at the month's end, which saw JGS (-1.86%) and URC +8.88% removed from the main index and subsequently added to the small-cap index. However, foreign funds continued their selling streak for the fourth consecutive month, with an outflow of $145 million.

4Q24 earnings generally in-line. Earnings season was in full swing during the month, with approximately 40% of index constituents having reported results, the majority of which met market expectations. The top three banks reported robust results, primarily driven by higher loan growth and steady asset quality, despite slight challenges in expanding net interest margins amid easing rates. The two property companies in the index reported divergent performances in the residential sector, with SMPH showing a rebound in presales, while ALI continued to decline, attributing this to the timing of launches. The overall outlook for the sector remains uncertain amid heightened inventory levels in Metro Manila. In the telcos sector, TEL saw gains in its mobile segment, while Maya continued to narrow its losses. GLO, on the other hand, disappointed due to Mynt's one-off asset cleanup in preparation for its upcoming IPO. Lastly, MER surprised to the upside due to stronger contributions from its generation business.

BSP surprises with a pause. February inflation was recorded at 2.1% year-on-year, better than the 2.6% consensus estimate. Core inflation eased to 2.4% from the previous month's 2.6%. The primary contributor to the decline in headline inflation was easing food prices, with food inflation decelerating to 2.6% in February 2025 from 4.0% the previous month and 4.8% in February 2024. Given uncertainties regarding inflation and growth outlook, the BSP paused its easing cycle, keeping the policy rate unchanged at 5.75% in their latest meeting, despite market expectations of a 25 basis point cut. Nevertheless, the BSP proceeded with its planned 200 basis point reduction in the reserve requirement ratio, effective March 28th, which is estimated to inject at least PHP 300 billion worth of liquidity into the financial system.

For local equities, fundamentals of the market remain strong, with a key driver being corporate earnings growth which we expect to settle around 9% for 2025. Moreover, we also reiterate the relative attractiveness of local equities from a valuation standpoint, both historically and in comparison, to ASEAN peers. However, in the short term, volatility is anticipated to persist, largely due to global uncertainties from Trump 2.0, foreign exchange, and foreign outflows. In light of these factors, we recommend adopting a selective approach, prioritizing highly liquid names with clear earnings visibility and maximizing dividend-paying names.
